Casa Placentia is not seeking funds

Casa Placentia directors have decided not to seek funding for the social service programs they formerly offered the Placentia Hispanic community from their Santa Fe Avenue facility.

Apparently lost to residents of Placentia are programs benefitting the young, like school lunches for children, counseling and recreational programs; and English as a Second Language.

The Headstart program, which operates out of the McFadden School site, will continue. Casa directors decided not to seek revenue sharing funds due to be distributed in September after county officials rejected two plans designed to convince the county that Casa had an outline for upgrading service to the community.

Supervisors cut off the funding when Casa lost its no-profit status as a result of record keeping mixups. Casa has regained its former status, but has now been denied a conditional use permit by a 3-2 vote of the Placentia City Council and now has no facility space other than the Headstart space at McFadden.

In the future, Casa Placentia directors will lobby in a effort to convince the city council that the services are needed by Placentia residents and should be provided. Without funding and a building to operate out of, the programs at Casa Placentia cannot continue. If programs previously administered by Casa are to continue in Placentia, they must be provided by the city, according to Casa directors.

The two stories to the two-story

Despite impassioned pleas and protests of residents living on Oak Tree Court, the Planning Commission approved 4 to 1 (Commissioner Robert Cleming voting no) a conditional use permit and design review for a five-acre shopping center and office buildings to be located on Yorba Linda Boulevard west of Avocado Avenue.

The residents who live east of the planned retail and office center at "The Village Green," object to the planned two-story office building, stating that their privacy will be invaded, as their back windows and back yards could be seen from the second story.

Developer and general partner Bob Albertson said he and partner Don Anderson had met with the residents and had tried to alleviate their concerns by moving one of the buildings off the eastern side and by blocking the view of the residents' yards with blockwalls and landscaping.

Residents felt this wasn't enough and that the commission had a responsibility to protect residents from "this kind of thing."

Rebutting this, the commissioners said they felt the visual impact would not be as great as the residents thought, and that the 200 feet between the homes and the office building was a mitigating feature. Also, the approval of the two-story office complex on Yorba Linda Boulevard west of Valley View had set the precedent for their action.

Persons opposing the Planning Commission approval have until May 27 to appeal to the city council and must pay a $50 appeal fee, which covers the cost of the public notices and the mailing that must go out announcing the appeal.

Lowers roof

Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District voted 5-0 to readvertise for bids to cover the roofs of El Dorado High School and Tuffree

Junior High School with insulating foam that will reduce heating and cooling costs for the district.

Two weeks ago, the apparent low bidder was rejected because of incompleteness and lateness. The second low bidder could not obtain a manufacturer's warranty for the work. Attorneys for the second lowest bidder charged that the manufacturer of the foam insulation acted

Knudsen's SUMMER GAMES^{T.M.}

What are they all about? Knudsen Summer Games are a series of week-long sports day camps for boys and girls, aged 7 to 12. The curriculum includes football, soccer, baseball and softball. But the priority is on fun. That's why we call them Knudsen Summer Games.

Why are they so important? Campers learn more than specific sports skills. We emphasize general coordination, too, and hold mini-seminars in nutrition, sports safety, and the promotion of good mental and physical sports habits.

When do the games begin? The four one-week sessions run consecutively, starting July 6th, 1981.

How do I enroll my child? For an application, just call our toll-free number: (800) 432-3391. Or write: Knudsen Summer Games, 4019 Westerly Pl., Suite 111, Newport Beach, CA 92660. The enrollment fee is only $75 and includes a free Camp T-shirt.

Where will they be held? The Games take place throughout California, and we add locations all the time. Call us toll-free at (800) 432-3391 if the following is inconvenient for you.

Dear Editor:

Tuesday, May 5, I attended what appeared to be a "Playhouse 90" titled Casa Placentia Cinco de Mayo Massacre, with the protagonists being the members of the Placentia City Council. The prologue scenario:

Started by the mayor calling for a "short" executive session of the council members in a back room while the audience waited patiently for one long hour. Ironically, the issues had to do with a litigation problem between councilman Laborde and a citizen from the city. Logic and courtesy should have dictated that the mayor hold the executive session after the items that were of concern to the attending public, in deference to the citizens, because the public is not privy to city council executive sessions.

Poor judgement on the mayor's part led the citizens to believe that this was a maneuver to wear down the attending public before the item could be heard. After the city council reconvened, the mayor announced that item No. 12, relating to condominium conversions, would be heard. Many interested citizens were in attendance for this item, and it was heard without any fanfare.

The scenario continued with the mayor announcing that item was relating to the adoption of the 1979 edition of the Uniform

Housing Code. At this point either the city administrator or the city attorney advised the mayor that numerically 13 follows 12. With this information, the mayor then proceeded to announce that item No. 13, concerning appeal of Use Permit 81/08 Casa Placentia (a community service agency) would be heard next.

In order that the public knows what has transpired chronologically with this issue, I will give you a synopsis of Casa Placentia's history.

Casa Placentia emanated from a need in the community approximately eight years ago. Primarily trying to help the youth of our community, as well as adults and needy families, its services have over the years been very beneficial to the community. It is a non-profit organization, supported by some revenue sharing funds and other government and private donations. It has always been located within the needed areas with the exception of last year. Casa Placentia is now endeavoring to relocate back into an area where it can be effective.

More specifically, on Santa Fe Street in our city, where it was located previously a block down the street. The chronology of events of the attempt at relocation since the beginning of this year are as follows: Lease a vacant building in January, presumably with city approval. March 10 the city Planning Commission approved the aforementioned Use Permit 81/80 after hearing testimony pro and con from the audience, allowing Casa Placentia to establish itself at 322 W. Santa Fe. On April 21 the item came before the city council to be heard on an appeal from a local resident.

There was only one representative present from Casa Placentia at this meeting, as Casa Placentia had requested in writing that this item be continued to the next council meeting. There was no immediate executive session called for at the beginning of this meeting, furthermore, the item was announced as being heard first, out of agenda sequence.

The only person present from Casa Placentia felt like the Lone Ranger while he was being pressured to make an unprepared presentation after requesting that the item be continued. At this point the city administrator advised the council that previous applicants requesting continuances had been honored.

The item was then continued to the May 5 council meeting. The Cinco de Mayo Massacre unfolds in the epilogue. Having placed the item No. 13 on the agenda, I am surprised that the mayor didn't continue the item for a more appropriate day, such as a Friday.

Valid testimony was given by many concerned people in the audience in support of Casa Placentia, along with a petition of 250 names of the residential and business neighborhood. Many of the petitioners live in the immediate area. In contrast, only one opponent lives in the immediate area, the appellant. There were other opponents who spoke who do not live in the neighborhood. The gist of their argument fell short of epitomizing arrogance, implying that they know what is best for somebody else's children.

There were some questions asked of the

Dear Editor:

I am an instructional aide at Topaz Elementary School and was in the building on May 7 while bank robbers were being pursued in the neighborhood.

It was my observation that the children remained calm through the efforts of Dr. Credell, principal, his staff, and the police departments of Fullerton and Placentia.

As a staff member, I appreciated the discipline and control that was maintained by all adults in the school, but as a parent of a child in the building, I was at peace knowing that my child was in the care of very competent and caring people.

Placentia teachers

PVEA contract

"It's all in how you say it," is the reason why the teacher represented by the Placentia Unified Education Association are going to the bargaining table. The teachers are bargaining for a wage increase to exceed 10 percent, on a March to March cost-of-living index basis. However, money was not the issue, according to a PUEA spokesperson. A language change in the contract is what's wanted. Last year the teachers received a 9 percent wage increase, but no change in contract wording.

The changes being sought by the 175 teachers represented by PUEA and not the teachers union are to include; just cause for discipline and transfers, reduction in class size, and more control over special education programs.

Both the association and the Board of Trustees felt that the negotiations will go smoothly, with no bitterness on either side. It has been reported that the funding needed for the 10 percent raise might not be readily available from the district. Uncertainty over the amount of federal and state funding available and no firm budget figures for the 1981-82 school year until June 8 has caused some board members concern.

improperly in withholding the warrantee, thereby assuring the third lowest bidder of receiving the contract. Ari-Thane Foam Products' low bid was $448,000. Accent General, Inc., second lowest, charged that third lowest Sprayfoam Southwest, Inc., was assisted by the manufacturer, and through the influence of the PUSD consultant who had worked for a firm owned by the father of Sprayfoam's president. The decision to readvertise for bids eliminates the need to resolve the controversy.

Letter to the Editor

city attorney by the proponents, regarding the validity of the appeal and the criteria that the council members would have to adhere to in their deliberations. Some questions were not readily answered nor to the point. In one instance, a recess was called, allowing the city attorney to research the question or rationalize the answer.

One of the proponents accused council members Betty Mead and Peter Laborde of lobbying against Casa Placentia at county level. The accusations were not denied by either of the two council persons.

This led the public to believe that Casa Placentia did not have a fair public hearing. A conflict of interest is not limited only to monetary gains by a public official, which I believe is not the case here. A conflict of interest impedes the ethics and conduct of public officials. The public official, because of bias or prejudice or because he has prejudged a matter set for a public hearing, is incapable, because of such bias, prejudice or pre-judgement, of granting the matter before him a fair and impartial hearing.

The mayor tried to justify the action of these two council members by stating that the council had directed him to send a letter to the Board of Supervisors advising them that an appeal was pending on the use of the facility for Casa Placentia at the April 21 council meeting. However, there was no mention in the council motion that any council member should lobby against Casa Placentia to the Board of Supervisors or to anyone else. Mr. Acton apparently cannot distinguish the difference between a city council directive and the action that the two council persons took independently.

Council members Eckenrode and Holt certainly demonstrated that they have a sensitivity and understanding of all the city's social needs. My comments are made devoid of vindictiveness and without any malice towards anyone, but with a high regard to preserving our Democratic form of government.

Assemblyman Lewis

The budget crisis to air

Assemblyman John Lewis today announced a live 60-minute telecast on the budget crisis to be aired Thursday, May 21 at 9 p.m. on local public TV stations. The informational telecast will originate at KVIE-Sacramento and will feature live comments from the public by phone.

Appearing will be Assemblyman Vasconcellos, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means; Senator Alquist, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee; Assemblyman Imbrecht and Senator Ken Maddy.

Lewis encouraged constituents to watch and phone in their comments. "This will increase the understanding of the options and choices we will have in drawing up the budget," stated Lewis. "I hope that community members watch and participate, asking where the budget can be cut and stating their priorities." A budget outline and major fiscal problems confronting the state will be featured.

"I am pleased such an effort to inform constituents of the very real crisis in the state budget is being made," said Lewis. "I can only hope a broadcast like this will highlight the need for restraint and fiscal conservatism in spending."

El Dorado Thespians take it with them

El Dorado's Theater Department won many awards this year from festivals throughout Southern California. The full production of "You Can't Take It With You" placed second in Orange and San Bernardino counties in the Southern California Educational Theatre Association in November. ED junior Patty Leonard was elected state secretary of the International Thespian Society.

At Fullerton College's first Annual High School Drama Festival, the mime group with Meg Treister, Pam Brock, Mike McNair, Jeff Chen, Andy Ports, Linda Grazano, Jody Downey and Lela Adams placed second in the mime category. Keith Monaghan placed second in male monologues, Cindy Engle and Ed Vassar placed first in Ensemble acting out of 25 entries; and the production of "Erick and The Rose" placed second in the one act play division.

Patty Leonard won first place in makeup design and application; Lisa Clark placed first in lighting design and first in set design; Matt Martan and Sheila Boyce placed second in set design; and Trish Reading placed second in costume design.

Reading also wond first out of 150 actors in Chapman College's Shakespeare Festival, winning a $2,000 scholarship to Chapman for a scene from "As You Like It." Reading and Caroline Woerner won superior acting awards at Cal State Long Beach's 21st High School festival.

In April El Dorado had seven semi-finalists at the Drama Teacher's Association Shakespeare Festival at Venice High School; Jim Tremise, Jamila Bayati and Caroline Woerner won in individual monologues, and the group scenes from "Much Ado About Nothing" with Matt Arietta, Joe Cutts, Ed Vassar, Sheila Boyce, Cindy Engle and Trish Reading; "Hamlet" with Mark Jackson, Mark Vinsonhaler, Don Weiner, Lela Adams, Pam Brock and Patty Leonard; and the "Henry V" scene with Matt Marten, Mike McNair and Jody Downey placed El Dorado 15th overall out of 50 schools.

Lisa Clark was selected one out of 30 in the nation to receive a $500 scholarship for a lighting design from the International Thespian Society. At Cal Poly Pomona's 7th Annual Invitational High School Shakespeare Festival, ED's group scene from "Much Ado About Nothing" received an honorable mention ribbon out of a field of 24; and the "As You Like It" scene with Trish Reading, Matt Marten and Bev Kennedy received a third place. Out of 42 girls entered in female monologues, Kimi Maeda won first place for herself and the school.

All of these awards are in addition to the presentation of four major productions: "You Can't Take It With You," "Gypsy," "One More Miracle," an original variety show, and the rock opera, "Two Gentlemen of Verona." The theater group is under the direction of Gai Jones.

LINDA VISTA PHARMACY

The ordinary aspirin tablet is probably the most universally used drug in America. It is one of the least expensive as well as the most useful of medicines. Aspirin relieves headaches, reduces fever, even lessens arthritic pains. Medical science does not fully understand exactly how aspirin achieves all of these results.

New research projects have indicated that aspirin may also be of value in preventing recurrences of coronary heart attacks, and that it reduces the tendency of blood to clot after injuries. The ordinary aspirin tablet is one of the most remarkable drugs available to man!

When your doctor prescribes medication for you, bring his prescription to us. Our prescription service is unexcelled and we're always happy to answer your drug-related questions at LINDA VISTA PHARMACY, where we honor PCS, Blue Shield, Paid Prescriptions and most other "third party" prescription plans.

CIF PRE-LIMS - May Ann Bullard, Debbie Arthur,

Placentia Schools highlights

VHS Senior Named Presidential Scholar

Valencia senior Michael Melcher has been named as a 1981 Presidential Scholar by President Ronald Reagan. The honor student received a wire from the president May 9 which read, "The Commission of Presidential Scholars has determine that you have made outstanding achievements and are recognizing you as representing the finest qualities in American education. You are cordially invited to attend the Washington, D.C. program given in your honor June 9-11 to celebrate your accomplishment as a 1981 Presidential Scholar." Michael is one of only 141 students nationwide to receive this honor.

ED PTSA Honored Statewide

During the 82nd annual convention of the California Congress of Parents, Teachers and Students held in Anaheim last week, the El Dorado High School PTSA (Maureen Plegel, president) was honored with a "Outstanding PTA Unit Certificate," one of only 20 in the state. The special recognition was based on the quality of service projects generated by the unit. Mary Liston, who completes her two-year term as president of Orange County's Fourth District PTA, was named to the association's state finance committee. Several unit presidents, including Council President Leila Kindelberger, participated in the conference.

Math Team Takes 1st in OC

The Bernardo Yorba Junior High School Eighth Grade Math Team (students Michell Bryson, Danny Clggg, Barry Bittleman, Brad Goering and Tim Wendler) was honored by the Board of Education. As a result of math tests taken in February by students in over 400 schools throughout the state, the California Math League named the Bernardo Yorba team top winner in Orange County and 10th in the state. The school's top seventh grade team (students Ken Georgi, Allison Ivory, Hwey-Zoo Jung, Steve Logan and Mike Vincent) also placed in the top 25 percent of those taking the test statewide. The board also commended teachers Barbara Steinberger and Carol Brodack for their outstanding achievements in the field of mathematics.

and psychologists worked with Dr. Lowell E. Ward, D.C. to develop, verify and document a new science that enabled Dr. Ward to assist all of the patients demonstrating the severe symptoms listed here to experience dramatic improvement. The science is now known as spinal column stressology.

By developing several independent indicators to evaluate spinal column stress, Dr. Ward and his colleagues discovered that the spinal column constantly adapts to stress put upon it.

The normal spinal column is centered at the top and bottom along a center point through which the center of gravity passes. When the spinal column becomes out-of-balance it contracts certain muscles and ligaments to stabilize itself.

Dr. Ward and his team of researchers developed methods for measuring the degrees of spinal column imbalance and the relative amount of stress and correlated them with the location and progression of the patients' symptoms.

Spinal column stressology provides corrective procedures involving treatment of the entire spinal column and pelvis as a single unit.

For the first time, it is possible to correlate clinical response of the patient to the objective results substantiated by pre and post spinal column x-rays.

This removes the need for subjective patient evaluation and guess work upon which doctors have historically been forced to rely.

Dr. Ward uses heel lifts, a technique called bilateral force correction, and adjustments with calibrated instruments. All these techniques help restore the spinal column to its proper position.

Psychological counseling is also used.

The final component of Dr. Ward's therapy is his nutritional program.

Dr. Ward is able to predict degenerative disease health crisis with his measuring x-ray techniques, often well before the disease will begin to surface biochemically or clinically.

The simple system of scientific documentation and charting is performed on each patient individually and provides a means whereby individualized proof of treatment effectiveness can be established.

Catalina ketch

Culmination of the year

By Elaine Wallace
"This year we have put in a lot of work on big boat outings, to try our hands to Catalina," said third-year Valencia High School Sailing Club member William Adams.

Selected Sailing Club members will be braving the high seas between Newport and Catalina. The expedition is the annual Memorial Day Weekend Catalina Trip — the culmination of the year.

Accompanying adviser Dr. Jim Jenkins and his wife Lu will be Commodore Mary Parker, Adams, Peter Barbour, Margaret Burke, Yeoman Shawn Grenier, John Oliver and Elaine Wallace.

Unlike past years, the crew will spend Thursday night on board Jenkins' 40-foot ketch La Belle Lu at the dock. "This," said Adams, "should prevent seasickness." By leaving early on Friday, Grenier explained that they would avoid crowds of boats anchoring at Catalina.

The extra day also allows for the 22 extra nautical miles Jenkins plans to travel. This year they will anchor in either Cat Harbor or Little Harbor on the far side of the island.

"Once the tiring trip to the island is made, we will be able to go ashore and explore the island or snorkel," Adams remarked.

Other activities include swimming, rowing, sabot sailing and sunning.

The sailors are looking forward to the cruise. Their preparation includes a special outing to familiarize themselves with their shipboard duties. Contributions for meals will be the only expense for the students. A meeting will be called for the assignment of galley duty.

North OC Job fair

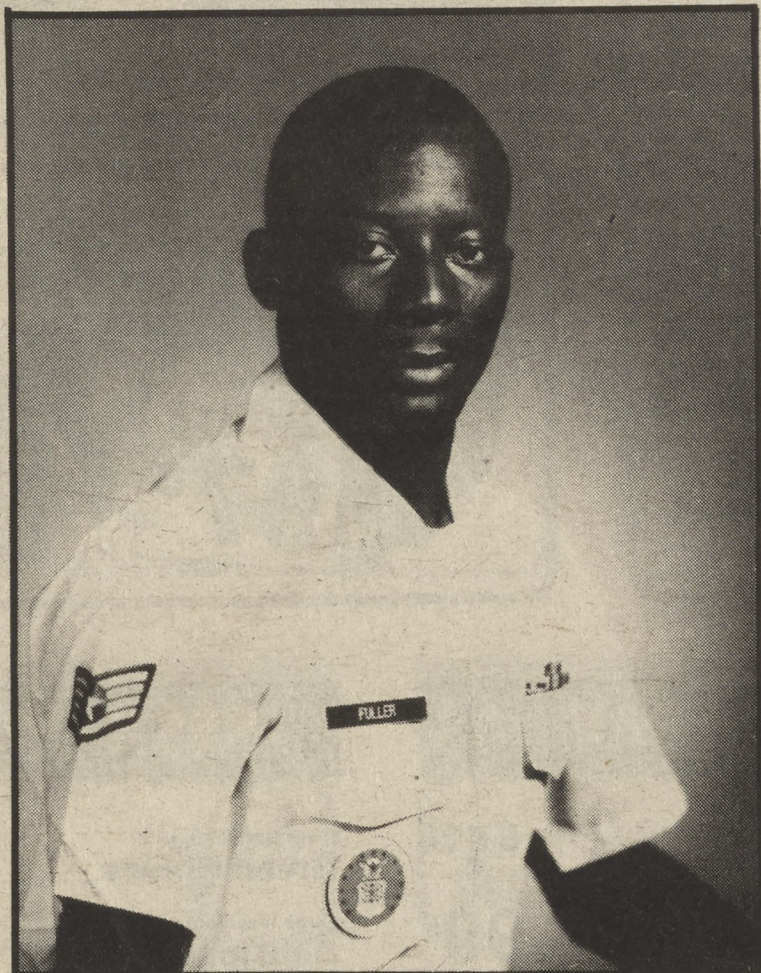

The North Orange County Regional Occupational Program (NOCROP) will hold a Job Fair for high school students and adults May 27-28 from 1-5 p.m. at the NOCROP main office, 2360 W. La Palma, Anaheim, phone (714) 776-2170.

Employers will be available to interview job-ready students interested in the following fields: automotive, banking, business office, child-related, construction, food services, graphics, printing, communication, manufacturing, medical, plant and animal science, repair and maintenance, and retail trade occupations.

Nestande speaks to chamber

Supervisor Bruce Nestande will speak on the future of Orange County before the Placentia Chamber of Commerce May 23.

Nestande, a former state assemblyman, said he will discuss such issues as housing, transportation and the search for a viable site or a regional airport serving Orange County.

"All of these issues affect the citizens of Placentia," Nestande stated. "It is important to me to understand how the Placentia community feels about these problems."

A former special assistant to then-Gov. Ronald Reagan, Nestande said that to create a more favorable business climate in Orange County a regional airport is needed. "Without a regional airport, the past growth of business in this county will not continue," he said. "Various sites are being studied, including Camp Pendleton and a new site near Lake Irvine, near Anaheim Hills."

The supervisor will speak Thursday, May 28 7:30 a.m. at the Alta Vista Country Club, 777 Alta Vista Pl., Placentia.

Mighty mites step forward

The Mighty Mite Division (boys ages 7 to 9) of Pop Warner Football needs 18 first-year players. Since the Pop Warner is a no-cut, no-tryout, guaranteed-play program, there are limited signups for the other six weight and age-gear divisions for boys through 14 years old. All players will be able to keep their playing jersey at the end of the season. Free physicals are scheduled for June and the first day of practice is Aug. 3. For registration call Les Gogerty, 996-2881, Pat Simpson, 528-0345, or Greg Young, 996-5651.

Pre-school experience

By Elaine Wallace

ROP Pre-School is a learning experience for both children and the high school students involved in the program. Valencia High School students help care for 32 children in the morning and 22 in the afternoon, supervised by instructor Barbara Arnold.

The pre-schoolers learn through activities aimed at all development levels, while Valencia students acquire a form of job training, commented Arnold. "We're not a traditional pre-school," she stated. Although the kids participate in the usual arts and crafts, singing, games, dramatics and storytelling sessions, the activities are designed for children to learn more about themselves.

The high school students in the course easily make friends with the children. This helps the children overcome initial shyness and even English barriers, in a few cases. "Parents are always saying how much their children have improved," said Lisa Pichon.

However, success with the pre-schoolers is due to a great amount of dedication on the part of Arnold and the students. "People think that all you do is play with the kids," remarked Ellen Scharlin, "but there's actually a lot of hard work involved."

The students must fulfill a contract during the semester. They complete child evaluation forms, plan a week's activities with a theme and meet with parents, among other tasks, according to Laura Stoeppler.

BROOKHAVEN

The legend

The Brookhaven PTA is presenting the assembly "Legend Into History," by Chief Red Dawn Friday, May 29 at 9 and 10 a.m. in the Multipurpose Room. This multicultural program serves to offset stereotypes which have plagued Indian people. The program creates a deeper perspective of modern people and their diversities. The PTA encourages the afternoon kindergarten class to join in the 10 a.m. presentation of this exceptional assembly.

The girls agreed that they enjoyed the class and the children and also learned a great deal. Stoeppler noted that they learn now to deal with children in a positive way when they get upset. She felt that patience was an important quality in this area. The class, Arnold commented, also helps prepare students for careers in recreation and hospital work as well as teaching.

Seniors in high demand

By Elaine Schmidt

This year has been one of academic excellence at Valencia High School. The seniors of '81 are in high demand and have been accepted at campuses and academies over the entire nation. Many students have further distinguished the class by attaining an abundance of scholarships, awards and prizes, according to scholarship counselor Gary Jones.

Mike Melcher has been tremendously successful in countless competitions throughout the year. Due to his outstanding performance on the PSAT, he became a National Merit Scholarship finalist. Competing with 3 million other students in the United States, he was one of 141 chosen as Presidential Scholars.

In addition, Melcher was selected Boy of the Year by the Exchange Club of Fullerton. He also became a finalist in the Bank of America awards and the Gemco Scholarship competition. Melcher will participate in two final competitions this month at the South Coast Plaza and Disneyland hotels.

The Exchange Club of Fullerton's Girl of the Year is also a Valencia student, Elaine Wallace. She also won the Teen Citizen Award from the Placentia Round Table.

Robin O'Brien harvested an impressive honor scholarship from the exclusive Claremont Men's College. Dave Holst won both a cash award and a commemorative medallion when he was presented with the Outstanding Student Award by the Orange County Savings and Loan League.

Lauren Mayer also gained prestige for Valencia when she competed in the Bank of America semi-finals last month. Representing VHS fine arts department, Mayer was awarded fourth place and won a cash prize.

IT'S SUMMER

To the beach

Don't know what to do this weekend? Why not go to the beach? They beach isn't only sand and water, there are many activities and shops which can provide a whole day of fun.

If the air is cold and the water seems like an iceberg, why not look in some of the surf shops? In the Huntington-Newport area there is California Juice, Hanifin and Russels all located near the Newport Pier, and on Pacific Coast Highway there is the Frog House.

Near the Huntington Pier there are many shops, including Jack's, Robert August, Carl Hayward, Randy Lewis, Sunline, Infinity, Greek and Wind and Sea. All of these shops have a variety of new a used boards; most carry wetsuits and a few, like Hanifin, sell clothing.

As far as activities go, there is always surfing. If the sun isn't up, why not do a little pier fishing? It's possible also to get involved in a volleyball game.

Skating and skateboarding along the boardwalk or in one of the beach parking lots is very popular. Jogging along the wet sand is also quite popular and is healthful, too.

It's Colonel Coach for George Ennis

George S. Ennis, vice president of marketing and sales for Brookside Winery Co., Southern California's largest winery, has been promoted to the rank of colonel in the U.S. Air Force Reserve.

He and his family reside in Yorba Linda, where he manages both Little League and youth soccer. He is active in the Air Force Association, the Reserve Officers Association and is a member of the Wine Institute's packaging committee.

Ennis joined the Air Force's aviation cadet program in 1953 and served on active duty until 1960. He has more than 4,000 hours of flying time, including service in Viet Nam. Currently, he is responsible for Air Force reserve officer recruitment in the six western states.

A native of Lyons, N.Y., Ennis received both his undergraduate and master's degrees from Cornell University.

Olsen-Perez place eighth

El Dorado High School journalists George Olsen and Christopher Perez both placed eighth at the Southern California Journalistic Educators Association Write-Offs May 9 at Redondo High School.

Receiving honorable mentions in sportswriting and editorial writing respectively, the two competed against writers from 70 Southern California High Schools. Perez and Olsen also received honorable mentions at the National JEA Write-Offs held recently, placing out of more than 2,000 writers from high schools nationwide.

Placentia Stake

Film Festival

The film festival of '81 will be presenting award winning films produced by the Brigham Young University Media Services. The Placentia Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, under the direction of the Seventies Quorum, will be hosting the film festival at two locations. The LDS church at 5550 Ohio St. in Yorba Linda will be open Friday, May 29 7:30-9 p.m. and will show "The Gift," a grand prize winner in the Child Film Festival and has received other awards. It is an 18-minute film of a Pearl Buck story involving a boy who has only 39 cents to buy a present for his dad.

"John Baker's Last Race," a 35-minute film, was awarded the CHRIS Statuette and Film Producers of America, first place, educational, '79 among others. It is a true story of a champion athlete with terminal cancer whose last, six-month race with life is spent with children he taught, making every child feel important, especially those who never win. There will be other films to choose from at the Yorba Linda site.

Admission is free and is open to the general public. There will be special children's films in a separate room. Refreshments will be served.

Saturday, May 30, the Placentia Stake Cultural Center will be the site for another group of award winning films. Highlighting this series will be "Cipher in the Snow," a 24-minute film. It is a true story of a boy no one thought was important until his sudden death one snowy morning. A school teacher painfully discovers that the boy had been neglected by his family, his teachers and his classmates. The film has won numerous awards.

Another multi-award winning film, "The Phone Call," hilariously illustrates the frustrations and fears adolescents experience in the courtship process as a teenage boy tries to secure a date with his dream girl. The film entertains all age groups above the grade school level, and emphasizes that the lack of confidence and awkwardness felt during adolescent years are common to nearly everyone.

For further information call Ted Hallen at 993-3031 or Robert Meads at 779-1848.

Other undergraduates with perfect grades are Marsha Burgess of Fullerton, psychology; and Pamela A. Scherer of Orange, Spanish.

Two universitywide awards will be presented during the ceremonies. One, the Alies A. and Pearl G. Martufi Award, recognizing age, goes this year to Alvin Gersten of Anaheim, 66, graduating with a bachelor's in Religious Studies. The other is the International Understanding Award, who this year is Petros Berba Gebremedhin, an Ethiopian who now lives in Fullerton, graduating with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

Dr. Ward has testified in court 70 times. Whether he has testified for the insurance company or for the individual, his testimony thus far has proven insurmountable. The side he has testified for has won.

Ultimately, the patient, doctor, insurance company and the court are all beneficiaries of the new spinal column stressology as detailed in Dr. Ward's book: "The Dynamics of Spinal Stress."
